

Result Details

Please help us understand why you selected this answer

Comments 225

- 154,850,498 After a life time of dealing with medical people, I want to get the info from the proverbial horses mouth. Today, 12:40AM
- 154,843,821 As never having participated before I wouldn't have thought a dr. Would be in attendance for every visit if you're just going for a regular check up. Yesterday, 5:42PM
- 154,768,560 I don't know what is normal in a clinical trial Friday, May 20th 4:14AM
- 154,743,971 Of course, and this is required in the USA Thursday, May 19th 4:26PM
- 154,742,898 To understand fully Thursday, May 19th 4:08PM
- 154,704,675 Everyone is different, with different symptoms. A caring dr should be there to listen & observe for themselves if there is a significant change from one patient to another. Thursday, May 19th 6:44AM
- 154,686,772 Would want to share what I'm experiencing and would want a response back. Wednesday, May 18th 11:09PM
- 154,668,282 Why would I do a trial without talking to a Dr first? Wednesday, May 18th 4:29PM
- 154,651,199 I want to know what's going on with the trial Wednesday, May 18th 12:00PM
- 154,626,294 To get an understanding of the process Wednesday, May 18th 6:55AM
- 154,614,828 i would need to know what they are testing, any side effects etc Wednesday, May 18th 3:13AM
- 154,605,383 Because they are expertise in their respective fields. I would also want to meet with other members of the team. Tuesday, May 17th 10:54PM
- 154,599,919 This only makes sense. Tuesday, May 17th 8:56PM
- 154,589,409 I would expect that a doctor would at least explain some of the items in the trial. I once was in an asthma study and worked strictly with the representatives after discussing with the doctor. Tuesday, May 17th 6:01PM
- I would want to know the ingredients/procedures because I need to know what the side effects (if any) would be Tuesday, May 17th 4:00PM

154,583,448		4:35PM
	I would want to learn something from the study myself, and hence would want to know exactly what was going on.	Tuesday, May 17th 4:32PM
154,582,912
	It would depend on if the person explaining the trial was fully qualified	Tuesday, May 17th 12:12PM
154,581,571
	communication is very important to me.	Tuesday, May 17th 3:59PM
154,580,232
	I would want reassurance from a professional regarding the safety of the trial and to review its pros and cons.	Tuesday, May 17th 12:24PM
154,562,062
	I want to know what is going on and what they are researching.	Tuesday, May 17th 9:16AM
154,546,031
	only fair that any questions i have is answered by doc & i always have many questions about UC/GIT	Tuesday, May 17th 6:12AM
154,534,320
	I would like as much involvement in the science as possible, having a science background.	Tuesday, May 17th 4:50AM
154,530,120
	I would want to be on the same page as my doctor.	Tuesday, May 17th 3:16AM
154,525,949
	Would want to know risks,benefits and ideas behind the trial.	Tuesday, May 17th 2:30AM
154,523,843
	Gives a medical understanding of trial	Tuesday, May 17th 2:02AM
154,522,972
	Why wouldn't I want to know what the aim was? It's my body, and my UC.	Tuesday, May 17th 1:52AM
154,522,747
	I like to be informed to a certain degree.	Monday, May 16th 8:52PM
154,514,923
	I would want to understand what was going on with the trial and any risks to me.	Monday, May 16th 8:38PM
154,514,314
	I think anyone would want to know what's going to happen in the trial. Whether it is safe or not.	Monday, May 16th 7:28PM
154,511,098
	MD or Ph.D. researcher	Monday, May 16th 6:39PM
154,509,045
	I wouldn't take any medicine until I knew what it was and what was expected from it.	Monday, May 16th 5:56PM
154,507,640
	I would want to know possible side effects of any medications I would be taking.	Monday, May 16th 5:44PM
154,506,592
	Want to know what I am participating in.	Monday, May 16th 4:45PM
154,504,052
	Because I would like to know what's going on with my body.	Monday, May 16th 4:26PM
154,503,636
	I would like to know what the trial entails.	Monday, May 16th 4:14PM
154,503,031

 154,501,213	I would like to know what they want to do and why. I do not want to feel like a guinea pig	Monday, May 16th 3:16PM
 154,500,558	yes they should be there to answer your questions and also to explain things after all you are giving up your time to help.	Monday, May 16th 3:03PM
 154,497,328	It is important to understand all the medical info when undertaking something like a trial so I would expect to see a qualified professional to put my mind at ease.	Monday, May 16th 2:13PM
 154,496,050	Depending how medically invasive and how risky the trial is	Monday, May 16th 12:02PM
 154,493,381	I would feel comfortable consulting a physician before any treatments or studies were started.	Monday, May 16th 12:48PM
 154,492,007	The doctor can explain the type of trial,any side effects to be expected etc	Monday, May 16th 12:20PM
 154,490,124	Good to have as much information as possible	Monday, May 16th 11:42AM
 154,487,534	Knowledge is power & pretty essential I think.	Monday, May 16th 10:43AM
 154,482,321	I hate describing over the phone symtoms because you never know if the doctor is really interested or just pkying along. Face to face tells me more how the doctor listens and shows if he really is interested.	Monday, May 16th 9:12AM
 154,479,891	I wouldn't do it unless my own doctor approved it first. Then I would expect to be informed of my progress along the way by a medical professional.	Monday, May 16th 7:16AM
 154,479,689	Because I do NOT trust pharmaceutical representatives to tell the truth! Hopefully the Doctor will be more ethical and not as greed driven.	Monday, May 16th 8:36AM
 154,479,275	Never been involved in a trial before.	Monday, May 16th 8:31AM
 154,478,088	UC seems to be very unique to the individual, so I would want to be able to ask questions to determine how this might affect me.	Monday, May 16th 8:11AM
 154,477,180	Taking my time & effort deserves a dr visit.	Monday, May 16th 7:54AM
 154,475,914	For Veracity and support.	Monday, May 16th 7:16AM
 154,475,899	It depends- no need to meet with a doctor for DNA studies-yes if drugs or procedures were involved.	Monday, May 16th 7:22AM
 154,475,688	There can be other participants or experts to talk to	Monday, May 16th 7:20AM
 154,475,452	I know it's not always possible for a Dr to be present	Monday, May 16th 7:15AM
 154,474,824	I would imagine this is protocol?	Monday, May 16th 7:02AM
	I always like to know exactly what is going on. I always have many questions.	Monday, May 16th 6:55AM

154,474,360		6:50AM
154,472,391	We need to understand what we are doing to our bodies and whether it will benefit us and others in the long run. Side effects etc	Monday, May 16th 6:02AM
154,469,965	Because I would want to know who the doctor is that is running the clinical trial so that you know your putting yourself in safe hands.	Monday, May 16th 4:53AM
154,469,497	I would want to know what I was testing and why	Monday, May 16th 4:39AM
154,469,390	My health is important . I would need to consider the effects the drug would have on my body	Monday, May 16th 4:36AM
154,468,025	To understand	Monday, May 16th 3:50AM
154,466,191	There are a lot of doctors that do not understand UC...	Monday, May 16th 2:47AM
154,465,689	It's a clinical trial and yes, @ some point	Monday, May 16th 2:16AM
154,464,597	It would give me more confidence in the trial. I would also feel that my questions would be answered from a point of knowledge and experience	Monday, May 16th 1:41AM
154,463,871	to understand more.	Monday, May 16th 1:02AM
154,463,265	I would like to be sure that the methodology of trial is appropriate for its aim	Monday, May 16th 12:27AM
154,462,699	Reassurance about all the facts, possible benefits/risks	Monday, May 16th 12:03AM
154,462,416	you need to know exactly what the trial is trying to achieve and the risks to you I took part in a trial for a drug not for uc and later found out it was to help the clinician to achieve his phd	Sunday, May 15th 11:44PM
154,462,406	Informed patients make better patients.	Sunday, May 15th 11:38PM
154,462,394	I would want to know more about it and stay up-dated.	Sunday, May 15th 11:43PM
154,461,994	Two way street	Sunday, May 15th 11:23PM
154,461,621	Why would any one want to participate in a study unless they knew the potential outcome? Even if there was no specific out come, I'd sure want as much information as possible before participating in anything.	Sunday, May 15th 11:03PM
154,461,416	Need to know that a doctor is involved and is concern about my health. The meeting should not last more than five minutes.	Sunday, May 15th 10:45PM
154,461,283	If it is possible that I could be harmed in some way from the trial, I'd want someone nearby who knew what they were doing to some extent and could answer any questions I had.	Sunday, May 15th 10:39PM
154,461,172	If I am going to be a "number" I want yo be an important "number"!	Sunday, May 15th 10:30PM
	It would be important for me to understand everything including risks and how adverse events would be handled	Sunday, May 15th

154,460,742	it would be important for me to understand everything including risks and how adverse events would be handled.	9:56PM
154,460,733	I would want to know what all is going on.i would hope to meet with someone in the know of trial.	Sunday, May 15th 10:07PM
154,459,886	Common sense	Sunday, May 15th 9:46PM
154,459,868	I think it would be good to meet the dr	Sunday, May 15th 9:45PM
154,459,811	I would trust a Dr more than a nurse, med student or admin person.	Sunday, May 15th 9:39PM
154,459,665	I would like to know if the meds were doing what was expected. Communication between a nurse would also be sufficient.	Sunday, May 15th 9:25PM
154,459,240	I would expect a doctor to initially assess my condition; thereafter, I would expect experienced and licensed nurses and/or PAs.	Sunday, May 15th 9:00PM
154,459,025	While it is a clinical trial, there has to be a doctor or team of doctors backing the study. Hearing the words from them would be more reassuring.	Sunday, May 15th 8:58PM
154,459,010	I don't know much about how these work.	Sunday, May 15th 8:51PM
154,458,861	There are enough not sure reasons why something is happening. I guess I'd like to know basic info in trial studies.	Sunday, May 15th 8:44PM
154,458,465	I would like to be included in on what my body is being used for	Sunday, May 15th 8:29PM
154,457,771	I would like to know what the drugs are doing.	Sunday, May 15th 7:49PM
154,457,697	Yes. Tell me why the trial is new and what makes it viable	Sunday, May 15th 7:52PM
154,457,541	probably not a doctor, but I'd expect someone to explain the trail	Sunday, May 15th 7:45PM
154,457,157	I don't like going in blind it's my body let me know before we start	Sunday, May 15th 7:27PM
154,457,036	Trade trade lemonade.	Sunday, May 15th 7:27PM
154,456,990	I like to be informed	Sunday, May 15th 7:24PM
154,456,876	Want to know the benefits and risks of the study to make sure I would want to participate.	Sunday, May 15th 7:11PM
154,456,353	Maybe all you would need is a very knowledgeable nurse, or researcher?	Sunday, May 15th 6:43PM
154,456,287	I am loathe to participate in any trial where my questions and concerns aren't addressed in detail.	Sunday, May 15th 6:45PM

Sunday, May 15th

	At least one such meeting to cover ground rules and expectations, after that a PA or Nurse practitioner is fine. I might also expect a doctor at say 6 month intervals for updates.	6:36PM
 154,456,189	If not a Dr. who is well informed regards UC, who else would be qualified. I would not want to engage a clerk, or someone that wasn't on the same page as me.	Sunday, May 15th 6:29PM
 154,456,092	I would want to know all of the details of the trial - what is its ultimate goal, will there be side effects, etc.	Sunday, May 15th 5:56PM
 154,455,895	Its obvious, a doctor needs to be advising of the risks, benefits etc	Sunday, May 15th 6:23PM
 154,455,846	They are required to hehe	Sunday, May 15th 6:19PM
 154,455,784	I would expect to meet a doctor at least once at the beginning of the trial and then at 3 or 6 months intervals. I have been in some other clinical studies (cdiff) and the nurse running the study is very knowledgeable so I don't feel i need to meet with the doctor every time i go in	Sunday, May 15th 6:17PM
 154,455,626	Obviously ... would have a number of questions, after all I want to know what they're doing to me and the medications involved, side effects etc...	Sunday, May 15th 6:05PM
 154,455,119	No, I would expect the techs to do what is necessary....but nice to meet with a Dr is possible.	Sunday, May 15th 5:39PM
 154,454,539	We always have questions, I would just expect honest answers to whatever I need to know. Not what they need or want me to know.	Sunday, May 15th 5:10PM
 154,454,142	I would like to be informed by doctors that know what they are talking about	Sunday, May 15th 4:56PM
 154,454,031	I would want to be informed about risks, side effects, and of course benefits from someone who knows what they are talking about.	Sunday, May 15th 4:51PM
 154,454,005	Yes for obvious reasons, I would want to know as much about the trials as possible before beginning them.	Sunday, May 15th 4:57PM
 154,453,473	I wanted to know what was going into my body and wanted to be connected to the provider to monitor the orocess	Sunday, May 15th 4:29PM
 154,452,733	It is important to me to have a qualified specialist be present to make me feel more comfortable in my participation	Sunday, May 15th 4:17PM
 154,452,732	I always wanted how this is going to work	Sunday, May 15th 4:18PM
 154,451,916	I would want to know all procedures and possible side effects and outcomes.	Sunday, May 15th 3:51PM
 154,451,853	I would need to know what I was in for	Sunday, May 15th 3:44PM
 154,451,725	Would be fine speaking to a Nurse Practitioner as well. Problems come up for people on different drugs and someone with intense knowledge should be available always if you have a rxn.	Sunday, May 15th 3:46PM
 154,451,104	Want to ask dr questions too	Sunday, May 15th 3:22PM
	A pt should know what is going on and what to expect.	Sunday, May 15th -----

154,451,023		3:19PM
154,450,939	 Any clinical would potentially have an impact on my condition and over all health. I'd want to understand as much as possible any effects to ensure that the clinical was also in my best interests.	Sunday, May 15th 3:13PM
154,450,880	 Knowledge and quick responses to questions are impirtant	Sunday, May 15th 3:10PM
154,450,706	 Would need updates, confirmations, thoughts and ideas, progress if any?	Sunday, May 15th 3:02PM
154,450,547	 Want to know specifics and side effects.	Sunday, May 15th 2:57PM
154,450,527	 If a doctor isn't willing to put in the time for me; I don't want to risk my health for their/big pharma benefit, even though overall it's for the benefit of my fellow UC sufferers, I still need to look out for # 1 and feel it's respectful to take the time out of their busy schedules to meet with their subjects. We're doing them a favor and putting ourselves at risk for their work/research.	Sunday, May 15th 2:48PM
154,450,515	 if im putting somethig into my body i want to know what ther is to know about it from a medical point of veiw	Sunday, May 15th 2:55PM
154,450,466	 I would be comfortable with a PA or even a nurse.	Sunday, May 15th 2:55PM
154,450,303	 To understand what is expected from trial	Sunday, May 15th 2:42PM
154,450,065	 Otherwise I wouldn't enter the trial	Sunday, May 15th 2:42PM
154,449,953	 I'd have lots of questions and would see it as an oppportunity to have access to a specialist for dialogue	Sunday, May 15th 2:32PM
154,449,925	 Someone in authority should be available for info. It may not require an MD to do the Q & A.	Sunday, May 15th 2:27PM
154,448,633	 I just believe they should be "hands on"--not just through an assistant.	Sunday, May 15th 1:54PM
154,448,087	 Depends on what's involved in the trial	Sunday, May 15th 1:29PM
154,448,075	 Is'nt that what should happen	Sunday, May 15th 1:11PM
154,448,020	 It is still my health even in a study.	Sunday, May 15th 1:34PM
154,447,563	 I'm th type of person who needs to know what it's about and what their objectives are on completion.	Sunday, May 15th 1:12PM
154,447,509	 I feel he would be qualified rather than someone who maybe doesn't necessarily have all info.	Sunday, May 15th 1:08PM
154,446,797	 the participant needs to know what is going to be involved before they start the trial.	Sunday, May 15th 12:53PM
154,446,724	 Uc is a deadly deisease	Sunday, May 15th 12:53PM
	 I would need to know what they are trying to accomplish and what they expect will be the effects of the trial on the patient	Sunday, May 15th 12:49PM

154,446,678	patient.	12:45 PM
154,445,907	I would want the Dr to tell me everything!	Sunday, May 15th 12:26PM
154,445,564	communication is important	Sunday, May 15th 12:15PM
154,445,516	I would want an experienced physician in the GI field to explain exactly what it is I will be taking, the expectations, and possible side effects from taking the medication.	Sunday, May 15th 12:10PM
154,445,413	I feel it's important to be informed about what they are doing and why.	Sunday, May 15th 12:06PM
154,445,250	A doctor would know more about the trial.	Sunday, May 15th 12:05PM
154,444,888	I have met whit a doctor during the trial.	Sunday, May 15th 11:53AM
154,444,402	Doctor's are busy. Probably why more of them aren't involved in clinical trials because they don't want to be bothered with red tape and paper work. Clinical trials should be a national thing. They should be run through state colleges that have medical school programs. That way they are uniform across the board, sample sizes would be big enough to get legitimate data, and they would be offered in every state. How many times have you read a article on pubmed with a study that had 12 people in it...what's the point? It's a study that is designed to do another study and so on and so on. That is why we don't have a CURE!	Sunday, May 15th 11:32AM
154,444,286	I want to understand what I have and how I compare to other people	Sunday, May 15th 11:33AM
154,443,989	Like to understand reasons	Sunday, May 15th 11:31AM
154,443,781	I would need to be informed every step of the way.	Sunday, May 15th 11:28AM
154,443,596	I would want to hear from the person who designed the study .	Sunday, May 15th 11:23AM
154,443,583	Wont to be sure am in capable handsi	Sunday, May 15th 11:18AM
154,443,542	I would expect to hear from the doctor personally, but most study items could be done by other professional staff.	Sunday, May 15th 11:18AM
154,443,445	He should be the one to know what the drug is all about	Sunday, May 15th 11:13AM
154,443,374	Any questions should be fully answered if the testing or trial involves meself	Sunday, May 15th 11:11AM
	If I were involved I would also want to be informed.	Sunday, May 15th 11:09AM
154,443,270	Clinical trial or not, it's still a treatment & you need to be able to speak with doctor.	Sunday, May 15th 11:15AM
154,443,258	I need for my soul.	Sunday, May 15th 11:13AM
154,443,222	Why anything less than a doctor?	Sunday, May 15th 11:10AM

154,443,092

154,443,070

I am very involved in participating in the treatment and management of my UC.

Sunday, May 15th
11:09AM

154,442,874

You should be able to email . Any questions and discussions

Sunday, May 15th
11:01AM

154,442,869

It's good to talk I guess. To be involved in a study with no opportunity to talk/discuss would probably feel lonely.

Sunday, May 15th
10:57AM

154,442,837

There are many "laymen " assigned to work that have less knowledge than I do and if they don't understand or respect my opinion/experience it seems an exercise in a futility. I also would like to feel what I say a contribute has an effect on their decisions and actions to my treatment.

Sunday, May 15th
10:45AM

154,442,823

I am aware that there are larger teams of doctors nurses and clinical investigators.

Sunday, May 15th
11:00AM

154,442,797

I would definitely expect to meet with some kind of healthcare professional, but not necessarily a doctor. I'd be happy to meet with a nurse practitioner or nurse too.

Sunday, May 15th
10:47AM

154,442,685

I would want to be updated on progress about the trial

Sunday, May 15th
10:44AM

154,442,671

I must get answers before I would do a clinical trial

Sunday, May 15th
10:50AM

154,442,660

Someone who knows what they are doing.

Sunday, May 15th
10:50AM

154,442,457

I don't know what to expect in a research trial.

Sunday, May 15th
10:45AM

154,442,451

Without that it's difficult

Sunday, May 15th
10:45AM

154,442,393

I would expect to meet at least at the beginning with a Dr. to Get an overview. During the study,I know others could monitor participants.

Sunday, May 15th
10:41AM

154,442,365

If it's s proper trial s Doctor should be there

Sunday, May 15th
10:40AM

154,442,272

It would be nice to know what to expect.

Sunday, May 15th
10:34AM

154,442,212

Not to really explain details and expectations but rather a short briefing as to what the trial is about, i.e. to help find meds that will help or CURE the intestines and or related issues of UC.

Sunday, May 15th
10:23AM

154,442,155

I would certainly would want to talk with a doctor if I were going to participate.

Sunday, May 15th
10:23AM

154,442,125

No brainer

Sunday, May 15th
10:35AM

154,441,929

Need to be informed about trial.

Sunday, May 15th
10:25AM

154,441,900

I don't want to be a lab rat, I would like to be informed as to what is going on and what may be happening to my body as the study goes

Sunday, May 15th
10:25AM

Sunday, May 15th

	A Nurse Practitioner would be ok with MD follow up if necessary.	10:25AM
154,441,869
	I want to free of my desase.	Sunday, May 15th 9:38AM
154,441,810
	These trials needs to have full disclosure that only a doctor could provide.	Sunday, May 15th 10:23AM
154,441,760
	it may be clear from the outset so no questions are needed.	Sunday, May 15th 10:23AM
154,441,731
	Not at every appointment, perhaps once a quarter or monthly depends on the study	Sunday, May 15th 10:16AM
154,441,578
	We would want to know what is being assessed at each time. However, if another professional would have the same answers, that would be acceptable.	Sunday, May 15th 10:11AM
154,441,426
	To ask questions and understanding of trail	Sunday, May 15th 9:58AM
154,441,245
	At least periodically or over email.	Sunday, May 15th 10:02AM
154,441,069
	Definitely yes, as treatment is up to doctors in my country (Germany) and nurses only fulfil a doctor's order.	Sunday, May 15th 9:56AM
154,440,986
	It is imperative that a doctor explain the trial, expected results, and side effects. The doctor should be involved along the way to answer questions.	Sunday, May 15th 9:48AM
154,440,650
	Critical to know the practitioner and their perspective. Information and a relationship.	Sunday, May 15th 9:51AM
154,440,569
	I think it is important to know as much information as possible when going into anything that could affect your health positively or negatively.	Sunday, May 15th 9:48AM
154,440,568
	That is just a reasonable expectation.	Sunday, May 15th 9:48AM
154,440,548
	Depend on circumstances	Sunday, May 15th 9:48AM
154,440,543
	I sent a medical practitioners at my doctors office and I love her	Sunday, May 15th 9:39AM
154,440,471
	Not necessarily, but I would need to speak to someone who understands colitis, medication and our digestive systems and what we have to go through each day.	Sunday, May 15th 9:33AM
154,440,461
	I would want to thoroughly understand what I was committing to	Sunday, May 15th 9:36AM
154,440,247
	I like to meet the people in charge	Sunday, May 15th 9:37AM
154,440,184
	To manage expectations	Sunday, May 15th 9:38AM
154,440,129
	Seems only fair if I am participating in their trial	Sunday, May 15th 9:27AM
154,439,921

Sunday, May 15th

	This should be a common sense answer. Everyone wants to know what's going on with their condition and what is being used to help it or put it into remission.	9:22AM
15  44 154,439,735	Want to know ins and outs of trial.	Sunday, May 15th 9:27AM
	I think Drs need to play active roles with patients to help support them through process and assist as necessary. Patients need that reassurance. It's their life. I'm speaking for myself.	Sunday, May 15th 9:23AM
154,439,734
	Would want to know risks, expectations.	Sunday, May 15th 9:26AM
154,439,679
	To know exactly what the question states. What is going on and answers to my questions.	Sunday, May 15th 9:24AM
154,439,643
	It's a trial. They should be scientists not Doctors	Sunday, May 15th 9:14AM
154,439,607
	I would want to know exactly what is going on with my body.	Sunday, May 15th 9:20AM
154,439,577
	This is my body and my life. I want to know what is going on.	Sunday, May 15th 9:18AM
154,439,556
	I expect to be an active participant in my own health care and want to have direct access to a doctor to help me understand what is going on	Sunday, May 15th 9:17AM
154,439,466
	My health is very important to me and I always want to be informed .	Sunday, May 15th 9:09AM
154,439,432
	I would have questions re the survey which I would want the answer from the Dr.	Sunday, May 15th 9:15AM
154,439,419
	That's their job	Sunday, May 15th 9:16AM
154,439,379
	I want to know what they are doing	Sunday, May 15th 9:18AM
154,439,364
	Because I myself am a MBBS doctor	Sunday, May 15th 9:16AM
154,439,345
	If I am willing to give my time to his research then he needs to give his time to me	Sunday, May 15th 9:13AM
154,439,319
	Absolutely would need the ability to get answers to any questions and concerns. This should be a requirement of all clinical trials and studies.	Sunday, May 15th 9:14AM
154,439,307
	I feel I should understand what it is I'm committing to.	Sunday, May 15th 9:08AM
154,439,135
	I would want someone to answer any questions about side effects or any other related issues. I would also like to understand what the clinical trial is trying to achieve, not just blindly take a test without knowing the details.	Sunday, May 15th 9:08AM
154,439,115
	well you would be stupid if you didnt ask what was going on	Sunday, May 15th 8:58AM
154,439,065
	Information is vital.	Sunday, May 15th 9:05AM
154,439,012
	So I understand what's going on.	Sunday, May 15th

154,438,996			9:06AM
154,438,959		I would not want to solely meet with the research coordinator as they always defer medical questions back to the MD anyways	Sunday, May 15th 9:06AM
154,438,871		I want to have answers by a doctor.	Sunday, May 15th 9:00AM
154,438,848		This should not need an explanatory comment!	Sunday, May 15th 8:57AM
154,438,845		At least someone to tell you how the trial is going. Especially side effects.	Sunday, May 15th 8:58AM
154,438,766		Do would like to meet with the doctor but would be fine with a video and whitepaper explaining everything.	Sunday, May 15th 8:56AM
154,438,664		So I can learn and be better informed	Sunday, May 15th 8:57AM
154,438,651		Its my body. I would like to know how the trial is affecting me.	Sunday, May 15th 8:55AM
154,438,610		Who else?	Sunday, May 15th 8:56AM
154,437,546		I don't think any patient should ever blindly be treated. You should always know what's going on with your body and how treatments will impact you.	Sunday, May 15th 8:23AM
154,437,102		I would want to hear from the doctor about the clinical trial, what to expect, any side effects.	Sunday, May 15th 8:08AM
154,434,993		Best done by students or admin staff	Sunday, May 15th 7:16AM
154,434,518		Clinical trials can go bad. I would want to k ow what I was about to do to myself	Sunday, May 15th 7:05AM